

DIVERSITY & EQUITY IN EDUCATION

Diversity & Equity in Education (DE) is a social-justice oriented program that aims to provide educators with a holistic approach to issues related to diversity and equity in a variety of learning environments. Educators gain an understanding of how diversity and equity relates to learning theories, leadership, and pedagogy.

A degree in Education Policy, Organization & Leadership with a concentration in DIVERSITY & EQUITY IN EDUCATION prepares you to:

- Understand the intersection of disability, race, gender, sexual orientation, social class, and poverty.
- Develop skills in teaching diverse students to ensure that all are treated equitably.
- Meet responsibilities in educational and organizational environments that emphasize diversity and equity, training and development, organization development, and performance improvement.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Institutions in the public and private sectors are committed to the inclusion of diversity and equity principles and practices across the workforce and in the classroom. Positions include: teachers, unit heads, principals, directors, public agency managers, and program coordinators.
